Working Conditions

Physical

- The CBSA International Liaison Officer (ILO) is posted in various locations around the world and works in a foreign environment where cultural, socio-economic, political, and linguistics differences exist.
- ILOs may work in dangerous or hostile conditions in the host country, where risks cannot be entirely managed, and there is exposure to various disagreeable conditions, such as terrorist acts, communicable diseases, hazardous driving conditions, unsanitary conditions, air and noise pollution, and sometimes unsafe working environment.

- The ILO's personal security will be an issue in countries with difficult living conditions and unstable security situations. The ILO and any accompanying family members may be threatened.
- The ILO may face difficult health conditions and which may have long term adverse health effects depending on the location.
- The ILO is required to work non-standard working hours, such as late nights and overtime, as well as extensive travel to many countries within the area of responsibility. Some of these countries will also have difficult living conditions.
- The ILO's work will take place partly in an office environment and at other times in locations away from the mission. The work off-site will often result in exposure to non-secure facilities and health issues. The ILO is provided with a mission blackberry and a CBSA laptop to accommodate communication and be able to work off-site.
- The ILO may be required to wear a ceremonial uniform at mission for special events such as Prime Minister or Governor General of Canada visits, commemorative events, and as outlined in the CBSA Uniform Policy and Standards of Appearance, section 9.1 Policy Requirements for International Region Employees Travelling Internationally and/or On International Assignments.

Psychological

- Works in an environment which may be politically unstable, and complicated by differences in the objectives or attitudes of the host government, including those related to human rights.
- The ILO is required to rapidly adapt to these conditions and attitudes and effectively interact with local authorities and foreign officials.
- The ILO may be under constant stress facing important deadlines, mission's high level priorities, emergency situations and/or international crises.
- Furthermore, although the ILO is a fully integrated member of the Mission and relies on the support of CBSA Headquarters, the LO will be working alone and isolated for a significant number of time during the posting.
- The ILO must have the capacity for productive, self-directed work in the absence of the supervisory and management framework typically found in a CBSA workplace.
- Some postings are considered hardship posts due to the physical environment, local living conditions, personal security, political instability and violence. Living conditions at these posts may include abnormal geographical limitations, power interruptions, pollution, absence of quality food and/or clean drinking water, lack of public transportation and reliable chauffeurs, laundry facilities as well as language and cultural differences. In addition, the location may have a considerable lack of community services, such as libraries, satisfactory medical services, and recreational facilities – making living conditions more difficult especially if the ILO is to be accompanied by family.

Ambassadeur,

Je suis heureux de vous aviser que l'ASFC a soumis une demande formelle au Comité sur la représentation à l'étranger (CORA) pour les postes supplémentaires à PARIS :

- FB-06 Paris (Agent de Liaison)
- LES-06 Paris (Agent de Liaison Adjoint)

Le processus CORA exige que le formulaire EXT145 (en pièce jointe) soit soumis avec la signature du Chef de Mission. À l'appui de ce formulaire, j'ai également mis en pièce jointe la description de tâches ainsi qu'un organigramme de la mission.

La justification pour cette soumission est évidente. La zone de responsabilité de PARIS-ASFC est l'une des plus occupées dans notre réseau international, et ce avec qu'un seul agent de liaison. Cela a été exacerbé par les mouvements migratoires en Europe des deux dernières années. En doublant nos effectifs à Paris, et ce du côté programme ainsi qu'administratif, nous pourrions offrir une contribution souhaitée à notre équipe. Nous souhaitons doter les postes dans les mois à venir.

Je vous prie de m'excuser pour les courts échéanciers, mais CORA exige la signature du formulaire EXT145 avant la rencontre du 12 juillet 2018.

Si vous avez des questions ou avez besoin de plus amples renseignements, n'hésitez pas à communiquer avec moi, ou avec Mary Teresa Glynn, Gestionnaire du Réseau International, en copie sur ce message.

Meilleures salutations,

Mary Teresa Glynn

9) Maintain a sound knowledge of the various sections within the Mission as well as their responsibilities and represent the CBSA when liaising with other sections.

Assistance in an Operational Capacity

1) In order to fully assist the LO, establish and maintain diverse contacts within the LO's AOR that represents the full CBSA mission and mandate. These include contacts within immigration/customs administrations, transport and airline companies, foreign police, border management or regulatory bodies, foreign consular officials, officials of foreign social services, non-governmental organizations, private security companies and others as required.

2) As required, participate in meetings with various border management partners and prepare agendas, participant lists, invitations for representatives and record meeting minutes.

3) Accompany the LO, or on an as needed basis, the INM and RD, on visits within the AOR, assisting where necessary, and provide immediate translation which includes extracting and translating vital information from foreign documents, correspondence, and reports to support LO operations as well as preparing non-official translation, oral and/or written, of documents when required. This can involve translating for senior CBSA officials for high level meetings.

4) Monitor and report on local customs, immigration and food, plant and animal developments. Report on changes to local legislation that could impact CBSA's mandate. Monitor and report on the local operational outlook of commercial transporters including new routes and carriers.

5) Prepare, update and maintain LO training materials on customs and immigration matters, such as; illegal migration, document fraud, passenger assessment, detection of impostors or non bona-fide travelers and contraband smuggling.

6) As required by the LO, particularly where language is a barrier, assist with the delivery of training on security features in Canadian identity and travel documents, fraudulent document detection, and passenger screening techniques to assist in the detection of impostors or improperly documented travelers. Comment: LOAs are not trained in delivery techniques and should not be delivering this training on their own.

7) In consultation with the LO, provide general advice, information and liaison on technical matters to airline staff, airport security, and immigration officials, in person, by telephone, or in writing, concerning Canadian and other identity and travel documents and current travel and immigration requirements for Canada-bound travellers.

8) On an as needed basis, assist with interviews of individuals attempting to board flights to Canada at airports within the AOR of the LO to ensure correct documentation and the purpose of travel is bona-fide. Comment: LOAs can assist with interviews and provide guidance to airlines on technical requirements only. Information concerning bona fides should be provided to the LO who then makes a recommendation to the carrier to board or not board. The LOA is not qualified or trained to make this assessment.

9) Conduct research on border management specific topics, collect and analyze information and prepare a variety of operational reports, alerts, interceptions and trends analysis. This may include but not limited to supply chain security, contraband smuggling, improperly documented passengers, illegal migration and environmental factors affecting the CBSA in the LO's AOR. Products are to be approved by the LO and/or INM as per mission protocols and clearly indicate a nexus to Canada. Research should involve (but not limited to) the scanning of open source information from media reports, news articles, government publications, immigration/customs records, and other public and private sources.

10) Assist the LO and/or the INM as necessary in the liaison with local officials, stakeholders and administrations concerning the implementation and delivery of capacity building activities.

11) Maintain and update CBSA databases and systems concerning incidences of fraud detection, and interception of people and goods.

12) In consultation with the LO, perform record checks from CBSA databases (GCMS and ICES via INS or the BOC) to respond to requests for assistance from partners in accordance with systems access, Agency and GOC information sharing policies, agreements and privacy protection protocols.

SPECIFIC KNOWLEDGE

The CBSA LOA must possess a sound knowledge and awareness of the CBSA and its mandate, the International Region's Liaison Officer Network program, and of law enforcement, border management organizations in the AOR of the LO and the operational functioning of the Mission.

In some cases, the LOA must be skilled at translation services.

The CBSA LOA is required to be familiar with the legislation administered and enforced by the LO.

The CBSA LOA is required to acquire and apply knowledge of passports, visas and travel documents, import and export regulations within the AOR of the LO. This includes knowledge of other countries and trends regarding illegal migration, local supply chain security frameworks and concerns, contraband smuggling, food, plant and animal regulations and other CBSA mandate responsibilities.

1) As per TB decision (TB 832041), dated June 6th, 2005, the Property Recapitalization Charge, the Chancery Operating Charge and the Project Construction Charge have been included on the Costing Template. The Project Construction Charge remains a liability and may be applied, at the time of a future expansion to all FTEs created after March 31st, 2004. They will be charged proportionately to each program's share of the growth. This change took place beginning with requests received via Reconfiguration FY2008/07.

2) Treasury Board transfer price is 20% and is calculated on Salaried amounts only (N010-12), excluding Relocation & Long-Term Storage.

3) All operating costs attributed to SSC must be transferred directly between federal programs and SSC.
